

Global Delegation to Peru

September 2-10, 2024

About the trip

The theme for the delegation is Indigenous women and their role in politics and society. We'll learn more about the ways in which Indigenous women are engaged in various sectors including the arts, education, business, politics, and environmental justice. Our goal is to understand how they and other leaders are impacting these sectors.

Additionally, we'll learn about the challenges and successes Peru's had in the advancement and protection of women's rights, and how their work is strengthen democratic institutions.

Of course it's also to have great fun and build connections!
